Though There Is no Reference to It in the Queen's Speech To-Day.

ROSEBERY GIVES ASSURANCE.

Says the Government Will Stand Just Where Gladstone Left It.

HOUSE OF LORDS AN ANOMALY:

But a Peerage Not a Bar to Public Service, Says the New Premier.

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, March 12 -Parliament as embled to-day, and it is probable that more interest is taken in this meeting of the Lords and Commons than in any other previous gathering of the two bodies for some years past, owing to the retirement of Gladstone and the reorganization of the different political paries which must follow.

Her Majesty the Queen, in her utterances to-day, after referring to the entire factory relations existing with foreign powers, says:

The Queen's Speech.

"Negotiations are in progress with the United States for the purpose of executing the award of the Court of Arbitration in the question of the seal fishies of the Behring Sea.

"Two collisions, accompanied mentable loss of life, lately occurred olth the French Colonial forces in West Africa. I await the result of the infiry in regard to these deplorable ocrrences with full confidence that they will be examined in a calm and dignied temper, as befits two great nations on such an occasion.'

The State of Ireland. The estimates for the public service found to make full provision for the defense of the empire. "The recent improvement in the state of Ireland has been continuous and marked. Ag arian crime reduced, under the adordinary law, to the lowest that has been reached for of the Queen's speech were obtained to-last fifteen years. The condition, however, of a consideable body of ers, prominent in Irish affairs. the evicted tenants of that country rethe Liberal party, and it is not intended to recede from any of them.

"The honor of England and the peace of Europe are safe in the hands of the present Government. The Welsh Church question will be pressed to a definite and successful conclusion." (Cheers.)

Rosebery on Home Rule. "In regard to the Irish question, we are bound to it by ties of honor and affection My speech in the House of mark pieces; 7,000,000 marks ($1,750,000) in Lords in 1833 seems to have raised two-mark pieces, and 4,000,000 marks Lords in 1853 seems to have raised some doubts as to my own position in regard to Home Rule. Those who have wso doubts can only have read the speech in a cursor; manner. The policy of Home Itule will not be less definitely pursued. If there is any doubt on the subject, one pledge which the Government has given in this connection is the continuance in his present office of the Right Hon. John Moriey, Chief Secretary for Ireland. (Cheers.) Mr. Morley has been offered a higher office, but he though, it his duty not to sever his career from the cause of Ireland.

War on the Lords to Continue. "Our late, illustrious leader, in his last speech delivered in the House of Commona, made a declaration with which the present Occernment have entirely identi-acd tremselves (Cheers.) The convicthat with the democratic suffrage which we now enjoy, a second Chamber, con-stituted like the House of Lords, is an anomaly. This conviction has been strengthered by the unhappy chapter of accidents which has turned the House of Lords from a body of hereditary law givers, more or less equally divided, into ne great Tory organization entirely at the beck and call of a single party leader. (Cheers.) "When the tories were in office the power of veto was not exercised, but when the Liberals are in power the veto is exercised at the dictates of the Tory leader. That is a danger to the Consti-tution to which the Liberal Government is not blind, and they will not lose sight of any measure which is constitutionally presented to the country in this great anamolous perid to which it is exposed. Cheers.)

Peerage Not a Stigma Nor Bar. "I will not go so far as some of my friends. I do not think that the Peers hould be treated as parlahs. I do not think that the fact that a man was born n a particular position should debar him from the higher opportunities of serving the State, and I do not sympathize with the views of a certain deputation which recently visited the Right Hon. Edward Majoribanks (Baron Tweednouth), though I agree that there is creat inconvenience when the Premier not in the House of Commons.

s not in the House of Commons.
"I am not one of those who think hat the peerage should be considered stigma and a bar. But while I remain remier, you may be assured that no Liberal in the ranks will endeavor more steadfastly to do his duty to the party."

Loud cheering.) than the exchange of diplomatic notes between the Governments of the United States and Great Britain.

The Department of State has received advices from United States Consul Braids, at San Juan del Norte, the fields, confirming the report of the hading of British troops at Bluefields, but he also mentions the more important fact that these troops have been withthat the peerage should be considered Premier, you may be assured that no Liberal in the ranks will endeavor more steadfastly to do his duty to the party." (Loud cheering.)

Harcourt Speaks.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, followed. He said that the enemy flattered themselves that the Liberal party was going to drop Home Rule, but the language of the Premier and the presence of the the Premier and the presence of the Right Hon. John Morley, as Chief Secretary for Ireland, was the best answer they could give to this supposition.

Continuing, Sir William remarked that Mr. Gladstone's last speech in regard to the House of Lords was an inheritance for the party, and asserted that this question would prove to be the greates in Committee Room No. 15 of the House of Commons. Thomas Sexton, member for North Kerry, informed the Associated Press correspondent that the meeting was devoted entirely to the internal arrange ments of the Irish Parliamentary party, and that though the meeting was still in session at 3 P. M., those in attendance did not know of Lord Rose-bery's declaration of policy or of the contents of the Queen's speech.

Later it was announced that Mr. Justin McCarthy had been re-elected Chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party.

GERMANY'S SILVER COINAGE. Caprivi's Proposal for Bringing It Up to the Limit.

(By Associated Press.) BERLIN, March 12.-Chancellor von Caprivi to-day submitted to the Bundesrath a proposal for the coinage of 11,000,000 marks (about $2,500,000) in fiveil,000,000) in one-mark pieces.

The proposition was made as a result of the increased demand for such coins and from the fact that the silver coinage has fallen 22,000,000 marks ($5,500,000) below the authorized limit.

Meeting of Liberals.

A large crowd of people gathered in the vicinity of the Foreign Office this morning to witness the arrival of the celebrities who were to attend the great meeting of the Liberals which had been convened for noon.

Lord Rosebery, the new Premier, upon his arrival, was loudly cheered, and a warm welcome was also extended to the other distinguished Liberal leaders as soon as they were recognized by the expectant crowds. Lord Rosebery also received an ovation as he took the chalf in order to preside at the meeting. Sit William Vernon Harcourt, who was the last member of the Cabinet to arrive, was greeted with great enthusiasm.

Policeman Connors Was Suspicious and Made an Important Capture.

THE MAN'S COMPANION ESCAPED.

Inspector Conlin Believes He Has a Clue to the Anarchists of Park Street.

The police of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station have in their possession three powerful dynamite bombs which they don't know just what to do with.

The bombs and nine dynamite paper cartridges, such as are used in blasting rocks, are lying in a depressed vacant lot where One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Theatre, Saturday, broke the Irving chief aquatic event of the year, exceptstreet intersects Manhattan avenue. The record of the present season. The ing the Yale-Harvard race-from an lot has a high fence around it, but in house was simply mobbed, and the sight American point of view-will be decided

Policeman Connors, of the West One Huadred and Twenty-fifth street sia-

After examining Kelley, the Inspector sent for Mr. Niccolo, an expert in the use and manufacture of dynamite. It was not until an examination was made that the true force of the bombs was ascertained. Each bomb was 11-2 feet long and 2 inches in diameter. They were all ready for use, and could have been touched off in an instant. The fuse was insulated in thin lead pipe.

According to Mr. Niccolo, after lighting the fuse it would have required about six minutes for the bomb to explode. He said the dynamite in each bomb, being confined in fron, as it was, was capable of killing 1.000 people in an inclosed space.

bomb, being confined in fron, as it was, was capable of killing 1.000 people in an inclosed space.

While Mr. Niccolo was examining the bombs, taking one after the other from the scuttle and laying it on the sod. Inspector Conlin and the policeman on guard were standing on the outside of the fence surrounding the lot. The Inspector involuntarily drew back when Mr. Niccolo was handling the bombs and waved to all passers-by to cross on the other side of the street.

The Inspector is as yet completely puzzled as to the intent of the owner of the bombs. He does not believe Kelley's story. The Inspector said:

"It seems to me that from the fact that this dynamite came from down-town the discovery of these bombs may lead to some clue to the perpetrators of the outrage at Angelo Defoe's place at 96 Park street, on Saturday night. Just where Kelley and his companion were going with the dynamite I cannot econjecture. There remains no doubt in my mind, however, that mischief was intended.

"I am satisfied that Kelley is only a tool for some one eige. Kelley is and in the companion of the owner of the see. Kelley is and in the companion of the owner one eige. The Commissioner looked up and saw a tail, muscular woman, past middle age, with strongly marked features. He waited for her to unfold her tale, which was as follows:
"Several months ago a man named George Adams, of Orchard street, near Stanton, called me out of my name. I had him arrested, and at Essex Market Justice Hogan fined him $5,000. The money was given to Charles Spring, a lawyer, who now has it. You are the only man I know of who can get it, and if yeu do I'll give you $500. My name is Margaret Roddinger, and I live at $55 East Fifth street. Will you do it?"
